Dear Customer,

Thank you for shopping local, and shopping with us at Bison Merc.

Happy New Year! We at Bison Merc hope you have a blessed and prosperous 2019.

This weekend is the first of three supermoons for 2019. It is also a total lunar eclipse. If I am reading my Universal Time (UTC) to Central Time (CST) conversion correctly, this Full Wolf Moon Eclipse will begin around 9:30pm on Sunday and peak around 11:00pm, lasting through the early morning of Monday. I am sure this will be talked about on various news channels and feeds; quite an event though not as rare as the KC Chiefs advancing to the Super Bowl – we shall see.

Bison Merc has a number of good Christmas chocolates left over for that post-spicy meal, attah-boys and attah-girls, and fun snacks at 50%. Bison Merc will continue to offer game licenses and outdoor supplies through 2019. Issue with coyotes? We have supplies for that. You got a skunk? We have a trap.

Bison Merc is also offering The Starbuck Fire Oral Histories book. It is a quality book which Bison Merc purchases from and offers at the same price as the Ashland Library. We will restock as they are sold, supplementing locations people can pick one up. One day I think I will be able to read it, but for the wife and kids, who were able to evacuate to Coldwater, they have a chance to wrap their heads around the most significant historical event in Clark County in memory. At $49.95 it is an excellent bargain and only goes towards the cost of production; never mind the daunting process the Ashland Library went through organizing and assembling the interviews. Great work everyone.

Sincerely,

Jerome Berryman
